

Per a referral from the Governor's Office, IVRS is exploring options for collaborative partnering with TopEDU. TopEDU will design, develop and deliver custom vocational training in high demand information and systems technologies to in-need community population segments, thereby enhancing their personal skills, abilities, employability and value to the greater community.

Who We Are

- TopEdu is an Israeli company that brings together experts in the fields of vocational and technology training to design and deliver comprehensive, high quality, custom learning solutions targeted to specified populations.
- Working in collaboration with local business communities, municipalities, learning institutions, governmental agencies, or non-profit organizations, TopEdu provides occupational oriented vocational information and systems technology training opportunities tailored to the specific needs of groups identified by those entities.
- TopEdu has proven expertise in providing technology training programs to in-need, underutilized and/or underemployed community population segments such as middle and high school students, youth at-risk, ethnic minorities, ultra-orthodox Jews (very religious), new immigrants, persons with disabilities and more.
- TopEdu has a very important social agenda in believing that by helping the above groups in obtaining the necessary technological knowledge and tools, that it will lead them to job placement, financial independence, and participation in their communities.
- TopEdu specializes in development, delivery and facilitation of high quality learning solutions including certification in technologies on IBM, Microsoft, and SAP platforms.
- TopEdu is an authorized representative of the Microsoft IT Academy (ITA) program to provide training and certifications in this domain.

Our Uniqueness

The America - Israel Economic Forum brings together diverse groups to provide the business community as well as the general public with educational programs about Israel's economy and the benefits of conducting business in and with Israel and other foreign countries. AIEF educates the community about Israel and its role in the world, its importance to the development of technology, the promotion of democracy and, of course, the hope of stabilization in the Middle East.
